How do you feel about what you have heard?

Take some time to think and reflect on Dr Jennifer Wiseman's thoughts, and discuss with someone (if possible) what you think about this.

God's evolution

The Catholic Church teaches “theistic evolution”, a stand that accepts evolution as a scientific theory and sees no reason why God could not have used a natural evolutionary process in the forming of the human species.

It objects to using evolution as the basis for an atheist philosophy that denies God's existence or any divine role in creation. It also objects to using Genesis as a scientific text.

As Ravasi put it, creationism belongs to the “strictly theological sphere” and could not be used “ideologically in science”
