To be able to write the main body
of a non-chronological report.

Warm up task

Can you remember the features of a
Non-Chronological Report?

Today we are going to be carrying on writing our Non-Chronological reports.

Before we start though, we need to do a recap of what we have learnt!

Who can remember the features of a Non-Chronological report? Write them on a whiteboard with your partner.

Features of a non-chronological report:

Introduction -
What is the report about?

Sub-headings -
Separate your information.

Main information -
Facts about your topic.

Present Tense -
Imagine it is happening now.

Third Person -
Use he, she, it, etc.

Pictures/Diagrams -
What does it look like?

What parts of the Non-Chronological Reports did we write yesterday?

The Heading

The Introduction

So what comes next?

The Main Body

That is what we are going to be doing today.

We are going to recap the Main Body first and then start writing it.

What is The Main Body?

The Main Body is where most of the information is.

Our Main Body is split into three subheadings.

- The Origin of Longboats.
- How Longboats are made.
- Features of a Longboat.

What is The Main Body?

Each subheading includes a paragraph that tells the reader all about that topic.

Let's have a go at writing the first subheading together and then it will be your turn.
